

The diagram illustrates a detailed floor plan of a building, likely a school or institutional facility, featuring a central corridor system and numerous rooms of varying sizes. The rooms are labeled with their dimensions, such as 7X, L, M, and XL. The layout includes a large central hall (7X) and several smaller rooms (L, M, XL) arranged around it. The plan also shows a series of rooms at the bottom, possibly a classroom wing, and a large room at the top right. The overall design suggests a functional and organized space for educational or administrative purposes.
