Hi Tyler,

The updated tech pack for the sweatpants is attached, please confirm the costing.

As discussed on the call please help to provide cost-reduction options for all styles, changing fabric, decorations, colours etc.

We would like a better understanding of how each change can affect the cost.

Would it be possible to provide open costing with an itemized list of costs?

Adding @Branden Degendorfer to provide the additional colors, for the teams that may be added.

Thanks,
Curtis

Hi Kalisha,

I don't feel we're being in any way unfair here unless I've missed something. We're doing all we can and I feel our prices are decent compared to other programs we've done before.

Anyway let us know if not possible to place with us and Portugal is cheaper (which I can't imagine it is)

Just want to remind you that the obligation from Ovo for the year is firm and moving these programs away will make the end number much harder to hit.

Happy to take the call as needed

Hi Tyler

I will let you know by the end of the week if we will proceed with this or not. Given that you want everything yesterday and we are not where we need to be on costing etc.... it doesn't look likely we will be able to work on this one together.

@Curtis Niel Let's push for NFL to get completed ASAP so that we have a chance to book this with UA.

Hi Kalisha,

Noted that POs will not be sent today. Please be aware that this will impact our ability to order raw materials for production, directly affecting the ex-factory date if we proceed as planned.

Before the TET break, I sat with Paul to review the costing for all NBA x OVO styles in detail, based on the information provided by OVO. I'm happy to schedule a call this week to discuss further at your convenience.

Sampling Process & Artwork Timelines

As previously discussed, we initially did not have enough information to produce meaningful samples. Additionally, we were not informed when we would receive the necessary artwork files. While we have reviewed the Tech Packs and are confident that UA can produce these garments, we have found that in some cases the addition of artwork and treatments (such as opening seams for printing or garment dyeing) can significantly impact production/sampling.

In the future, if your team requires samples without artwork and is unsure when the artwork/deco will be available, please explicitly advise us. Proceeding without artwork may be beneficial in some cases, and UA is happy to support. Ideally, providing a timeline for when the artwork will be ready would help streamline the process.

Costing & Patch Development

Before TET, we updated and optimized costing based on all provided information. UA is currently developing the patches internally to improve upon the pricing provided by OVO. While sourcing patches in-house will likely lead to cost improvements, it will not yield reductions in the range of $5-$7 per unit. The garments in this collaboration are more complex and decoration-heavy compared to previous projects, but UA has still managed to align or improve costs relative to similarly detailed collections, such as NFL. We are working on the updated costing and at best we are expecting $2-$3 improvements.

MOQ & Production Considerations

Regarding the MOQ for Portugal, UA's standard is 250 units per color, consistent with all past productions with OVO. While we often accommodate lower volumes for OVO's mainline collections and mitigate surcharges where possible, additional parameters—such as 0% short shipments and >5% overage tolerance—limit our flexibility. As a result, surcharges become necessary when producing below MOQ.

Please advise how you would like to proceed. Given that the program's delivery date is July 4th and we are currently in the sampling phase, timely alignment on next steps would be beneficial.

Cheers,

Thank you and Best Regards,

Hi Tyler,

You will have noticed that the PO's will not be sent today. There is a lot that needs to be discussed and reviewed before we press forward. I did have a back and forth with Paul on this subject and now the office is back and running. We should get on a call and review.

I would like to go through your comments below in regards to tech packs. There are two types in my opinion. Garment and artwork are two different things and we need to come to an understanding when you should start sampling because as discussed when you were in Toronto.... Getting all information at one time is not possible. We have to start running with the information we have so that we move things along.

You have the artwork to work on the cosing with you utilizing your resources. I gave strict margin guidelines and will need to review this costing and we may have to adjust artwork to hit the targets.

I have also shared that we will be offering this collection to Fanatics and they have the opportunity to add teams. We will be placing an MOQ but we need to work out this pricing. If made in Portugal the MIN is 150 units per colour before we start to see surcharges. I need to work on the costing surcharges if made by UA.

If you can stay on the later tomorrow... we can review and discuss. Let me know if that works.

Thank you

Hey Curtis,

Appreciate you sending this over.

We will use these costs to re-cost after TET using the badge price you have supplied, currently we do not have time to turn around costing before the TET break based on receiving this information now.

Please see UA's updated prices with improved costing and brackets in the attached file. As you can see, at the 500 Pieces/Color the efficiency is increasing, and we see dramatic costing improvements.
At the 100 & 200 ranges is where we see the impact of surcharges and decreases in production efficiencies increase the overall cost, around 100 or less pieces they are almost treated as SMS or sampling due to the scale.

Hopefully having some more accurate figures is achievable after our TET break and we can re-cost based on new information if needed.

UA requires a PO as soon as possible to ensure that the Fabric can be secured and that we have enough time for lab dipping and any required sampling. Is it possible to have all relevant information as well as PO's is sent to us before we return from TET break? (February 10th).

Regarding samples, UA did not receive Tech Packs until the 31st of December. When UA receive Tech Packs or Artwork it is listed clearly in the WIP and Weekly report. My team reached out for all information and stated that we will not start sampling until we have all information as OVO requests for proto samples to be as accurate as possible. My team reached out 3 times for artwork and colors before receiving all Tech Packs on the 15th of January which is when we began sampling. In the future, if you and the team want samples made without passing along all the information, please tell your team to specify as we were very clear when reaching out that we would not start without all the info needed. Now that we have received all Tech Packs and information needed for sampling, the team has reviewed and there does not seem to be any concerns or issues with construction at this stage.

Let me know if there is anything more we can support and we will do our best to get back to you asap.

Cheers,

Thank you and Best Regards,

Hi Tyler,

You can develop the patches. I have spoken to Curtis and we will send you the artwork for all the teams. Sorry it wasn't sent yesterday.

We will also share the pricing from the supplier we are developing the patches with.

The ONE GAME patch is not in stock for you to order so you can develop it yourself. We can send you a sample to follow so you have an idea on the quality and execution.

You should have ALL. Information by the end of day.

My biggest concern is I am getting a lot of pressure on the costing and I am curious if something can be shared Friday once you have all the information.

I want to ask.... Grace sent the garment tech packs to you December 5, 2025. Where are you in making these samples? You have said for us to show you a range plan and you can tell us if a style will be too difficult for you to make. Any call outs?

Thank you

Just jumping in here.

Thankyou for providing the Costs for the Cadica patches.

We have been told twice now that UA is unable to source any of these patches due to OVO having multiple collections and wanting to align with other productions.

Can you please talk with the team and align for if UA is able to counter source these patches.

Hi Tyler

Please provide the costing based on the projections provided. And then provide the costs when we hit the MOQ. Please assume the costs are split evenly at the moment so we have a cost to work with.

The units below are OVO units only and doesn't include the leagues units. And we can't offer it to them without the costs and certainty you can make the samples. Our biggest concern is the sweatpant at this moment.

Please provide an ETA for the Proto Samples and costs.

Thank you

Hey Curtis,

Cheers for sending through these Styles and Projected units. Can you please assist in sending all Techpacks and Artworks as soon as possible. Are you able to provide a date that everything will be submitted?

Regarding Target Prices and Projected Units, I am assuming that the projected units are spread across the 8 total teams? If so please refer to the below information:

- Majority of styles will be below MOQ (250-300) this will drive pricing, please consider increasing these units.
- Will the projected units be split equally across the 8 teams? If not, can you provide splits as this will affect cost also.
- Target prices will likely be hard to achieve with such small volume per SKU such as the Zip Jacket and Snap Sweatpants. (100 pieces roughly if divided by 8 teams)

Let me know if there are any issues or questions about this.

Cheers,

Thank you and Best Regards,
